REFUNDS

There will be no refunds for any unused portion of the tour decided by the client.

Refunds will be made in the event of cancellation on the part of Miris Trails, unless such a cancellation is caused by “force majeure”.

Force majeure is (Latin for "superior force, chance occurrence, unavoidable accident") and a common clause in contracts that essentially frees both parties from liability or obligation when an extraordinary event or circumstance beyond the control of the parties, such as a war, strike, riot, crime, or an event described by the legal term act of God (such as hurricane, flooding, earthquake, volcanic eruption, etc.), prevents one or both parties from fulfilling their obligations under the contract. In practice, most force majeure clauses do not excuse a party's non-performance entirely, but only suspends it for the duration of the force majeure.

Force majeure is generally intended to include risks beyond the reasonable control of a party, incurred not as a product or result of the negligence or malfeasance of a party, which have a materially adverse effect on the ability of such party to perform its obligations, as where non-performance is caused by the usual and natural consequences of external forces (for example, predicted rain stops an outdoor event), or where the intervening circumstances are specifically contemplated.

If the minimum group size is not reached, the agency will offer clients the choice, 15 days prior to departure, of either being fully refunded or accepting a group surcharge and continuing with the tour.

TOUR INSURANCE PROTECTION

Miris Trails recommends the clients arrange for Travel Assistance and Cancellation Insurance, for added protection and convenience during travel, and as protection against possible cancellation charges, also which covers medical expenses and repatriation. Insurance taken out at the time of booking will give immediate protection for deposit paid.

If the agency should be forced to modify main elements of the tour, the client shall receive notice as soon as possible, and always a minimum of three days in advance, offering the possibility of cancelling the tour with a full refund, or accepting the modification of the initial route. If, after this notice of three working-days' time, the agency receives no answer, it will be understood that the client wishes to cancel the reservation.

MIRIS TRAILS' LIABILITY

Miris Trails will be responsible for the consequences of the non-execution or defective execution of the tour if this is a result of its proceeding. Miris Trails' liability is limited to “force majeure” or conditions that neither the Miris Trails nor its suppliers have been able to avoid, or when the cause is attributable to the client or a third person.

The client shall communicate to the Miris Trails in a written form and as soon as possible any non-fulfillment in the execution of the tour that may have been noticed.
